

California-based couple Brooks Andrews (30 and VP of a growth equity firm, right) and Dale Dwelle (30 and a recruiting manager at a tech company) gave their guests a taste of the South by hosting their destination wedding in Atlanta. "We chose our venue because we felt that it captured the beauty and timelessness of the area," Dale says. In order to add flair to the outdoor ceremony space, the couple's florist popped white roses into the ivy covering the garden's walls. During the reception, patterned navy-and-white linens and gold dinnerware made for a masculine yet elegant aesthetic. "It was all a combination of elements that came together for a night we'll never forget," Dale says. —Shelby Simon the cocktail hour Guests enjoyed preceremony drinks on the lawn of the Swan House before taking their seats in the center's rear garden. the attire Brooks wore a classic navy suit with a subtle plaid pattern, while Dale chose a shiny gray design. the ceremony White folding chairs added a crisp touch to the outdoor garden space. the centerpieces White orchid centerpieces, tall gold vases and crisp navy linens topped the round reception tables.

the first dance Brooks and Dale chose "Latch" by Sam Smith as their first-dance song. "It was truly love at first sight for us, and the song perfectly captured this sentiment," Dale says. the cake The blue-and-white fondant cake featured rectangular tiers separated by navy risers. A modern "D & B" monogram was added to the middle tier for a personalized touch. the table décor Gold flatware and beaded glass chargers popped against modern, patterned table linens.
